Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill changes the laws governing distribution of state documents (publications). The changes include:

1. Currently, there are 2 state document depository libraries outside this state — the Library of Congress and the Center for Research Libraries, Chicago, Illinois. The bill discontinues the center as a depository and replaces it with the Council of State Governments, Lexington, Kentucky.

2. The bill provides for each selective state depository library (one that receives only selected state publications) to receive one free copy of the Blue Book and the biennial reports of state agencies.

3. The bill provides for the reference and loan library of the department of public instruction to receive one free copy of each major state publication. Currently, the library receives one free copy of other state publications.

SENATE BILL 487

4. The bill increases the automatic free distribution of certain state documents to the Library of Congress.
